CELEBRATES

International Women's Day 2021

Theme: 'Women in leadership: Achieving an equal future in a COVID-19 world.'

The women are responsible for their own thoughts and actions every day and they challenge the world everyday. The theme further signifies that women can choose to challenge gender bias and inequality in the world. A challenged world is an alert world.

Individually, we're all responsible for our own thoughts and actions - all day, every day. We can all choose to challenge and call out gender bias and inequality. We can all choose to seek out and celebrate women's achievements. Collectively, we can all help create an inclusive world. From challenge comes change, so let's all choose to challenge.

INTRODUCTION:

The conference of over 100 women from 17 countries accepted Zetkin's suggestion with unanimous approval and International Women's Day was observed for the first time in 1911. In 1913, the date for International Women's Day was changed to March 8 and it is celebrated on the same day every year.

International women day every year 8th march we are celebration with the annual event being recognized by the United Nations (UN). Women are a valuable part of society, they are the key to preserve the human race and in today's world, the importance of women in society is beyond any suspicion.

International Women's Day is celebrated in many countries around the world. It is a day when women are recognized for their achievements without regard to divisions, whether national, ethnic, linguistic, cultural, economic or political.

International Women's Day is a time to reflect on progress made, to call for change and to celebrate acts of courage and determination by ordinary women, who have played an extraordinary role in the history of their countries and communities.

Women of the world want and deserve an equal future free from stigma, stereotypes and violence; a future that's sustainable, peaceful, with equal rights and opportunities for all.
